Church Reacts to Porno

Near Sacramento, just weeks ago, the body of a 13-year old child was found stuffed in a drainage ditch.

She had been molested, beaten and then murdered — another victim in the ballooning statistics of sex crimes in California.

The tragedy ties together several matters involving this, and other sex crimes in this state — the growing list of which frustrates some of our lawmakers. In this instance it is State Senator H. L. Richardson who is upset by the situation. He reported the events recorded here.

The criminally assaulted, murdered youngster had been attending the Landmark Baptist Church in Sacramento. News of the girl's death shocked the minister and members of his congregation. A sermon on wickedness and Americans' passiveness towards crime was delivered the following Sunday.

In the same community Sheriff Duane Lowe was speaking out against the growing number of porno-literature bookstores, illicit massage parlors and x-rated movies expanding in Sacramento County.

Jesse G. Walker, one of the local porno entrepreneurs, was expanding operations into the suburbs. So questions were being posed over the licensing of one of his new establishments.

The lawyers for Goldie's Bookstore is Coleman Blease, who for many years was the lobbyist in Sacramento for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU). This legal fraternity has done more than any other group to defend those engaged in distributing smut.

The ACLU has been in the forefront of the legal battle to "legalize pornography." The controversy over licensing was newsworthy and Mr. Walker was interviewed over TV. During the course of the interview Walker called Sheriff Duane Lowe an S.O.B.

One of the pastors of the Rev. Wilkins' church watched the interview in righteous indignation. The next day at church, that same pastor was among five of the church leaders who were discussing the sorry state of affairs — the young girl's murder, the proliferation of pornography, the expanding rise in sex-related crimes and the passive view of the churches in general. One of the five spontaneously suggested that they go to the bookstore and see for themselves if the material was as degenerative as they had been told.

The others agreed so they all went to the bookstore. It took very little investigating to discover that the material was not only bad, it was far worse than they had expected.

One member of the group became so incensed that he exclaimed that the material was filth and that filth deserves to be in the gutter. He then filled his arms with books, went out the front door, and threw the material in the gutter. His colleagues followed suit and before the gawking eyes of the man in charge, more than $500 in books found their way from the shelves to the gutters of Sacramento.

The group re-entered the store and started to preach the word of God to the bookstore attendant. He became extremely nervous and wanted to leave. The churchmen knew they would probably be arrested so they waited for the deputies to appear. When they arrived, the ministers were holding a prayer meeting. The officers respectfully waited with heads bowed, until the prayers were over.

The group was arrested. However, they were treated with great cordiality by the officers.

These church men had destroyed property that belonged to others. None denied that.

But many cannot help but have a feeling of empathy for them and share their frustrations. Many believe the laws have been twisted, interpreted and emasculated to where the law provides a protective shield for the purveyors of degenerative filth.

No community has ever voted in porno shops. No candidate has won an election on the platform of allowing x-rated movies, porno shops and illicit massage parlors to flourish in the community.

These "business establishments" are forced on hapless communities by the liberal courts' twisted interpretation of the Constitution, and the incessant advocacy by groups such as the ACLU. In the background lurk lawmakers who tolerate the courts' actions and do nothing to change the law to offset the courts' decisions.

The men of the Landmark Baptist Church will go on trial. There is little hope that they will be treated as "justly" as have been the porno shops, the smut movies and the illicit massage parlors.

But the church these men are a part of refuses to be silent. Members of the church are in the process of picketing the "porno center".

In this action Richardson sees hope. He feels that his law-making peers may be moved to re-evaluate their thinking about degenerative filth that has been allowed to spawn with little resistance from them.

Not all churches or their congregations, he notes, have developed the comfortable, smug permissiveness of the non-involved citizens. Some are still capable of battling evil wherever they find it and some are still capable of righteous indignation.

In this, says Senator Richardson, is a ray of hope.

Integrated Planning OK'd By Supervisors

An Integrated Planning Office proposal, (IPO) conceived by Supervisor Dick Brown, was approved Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

It creates a single planning office covering all aspects of community development with a budget of $2.36 million.

It puts all the departments having to do with building, planning, transportation, land use and capital improvements under the IPO canopy.

IPO will employ 107 persons, most of whom are already on county payrolls in similar county jobs.

This newspaper published the IPO concept in full in December and January. The study showed that many county planning departments have little or no communication with each other. IPO would end that.

A general complaint came from those who wanted to build. Not only was information hard to get but often one department's ruling would cancel out the other, it was said.

Brown's IPO concept becomes effective July 1. It was passed by the board on a 3-2 vote.

Advisory Group to View Nine Lemon Grove Problems

A 9-item agenda will be the guide for discussion Tuesday when the Lemon Grove Center (Crisis Cottage) has a meeting at 3270 Main st., Lemon Grove, according to Fred Anderson, chairman of the Lemon Grove Advisory Committee.

The meeting will be 11:30-12:30. The advisory committee is a free-wheeling organization not connected with any organization, group or arm of government, according to Anderson. "We examine local problems and see if we can get solu-

Supervisors' Shuffle Keyed To Census

Members of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors will each chair a special public meeting during April to discuss the question of redistricting with their constituents.

The Board intends to redistrict the five County supervisorial districts in July this year to more evenly distribute the County's total population. At present the five districts are uneven in terms of population.

The five special meetings are being held to give the public an opportunity to discuss the questions of redistricting with the Supervisors and present its views.

The first meeting will be

Box of Tools Awaits Owner

A tool box fell from a van traveling east on Broadway at Massachusetts Friday at 10 p.m.

The loss was observed by Sheriff's Deputy Charges Edward Gouge, of the Lemon Grove office.

Gouge stopped to retrieve the box but the van continued on its way. Officers estimated the value at $140 and list it as a Found Property at the Lemon Grove office under Control No. 4291.

Nine problems that will accrue with the coming opening of the Lemon Grove off-ramp where Costa Bella once was are listed by Anderson like this:

1. The parking area is in deteriorating condition and no plans have been made by the county.
2. We do not want parking meters!
3. Main street should be re-striped for parking.
4. Curbing and sidewalks on Main are in very bad condition. No repair in 30 years.
5. We should have special provisions for wheel chair ramps on curbs.
6. We would like to have someone show a little interest in Lemon Grove.
7. Why is there no transportation planning for the Lemon Grove area? (Better bus service, Dial-A-Ride)
8. We should do something about the holes on Broadway.
9. We would like to have bicycle lanes.

Grove Youth To Face 3 Charges

Police charged Jerry Garfield Silverthorn, 18, of 8345 Golden ave., Lemon Grove, of possession of marijuana, possession of alcohol by a person under 21, and prowling about 10:30 p.m. March 25.

Sheriff's deputies reported they saw a car and three people who were in the rear of Border Auto Parts, 3617 Costa Bella, in Lemon Grove. The lateness of the hour and the smell of alcohol encouraged an investigation. Marijuana seeds and several cans of beer were in the car. The passengers with Silverthorn were males, 15 and 16 who were released to their parents.

Silverthorn will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Light Showers Bring Year's Total to 11.93

Monday showers added .11 of an inch to this year's rainfall bringing the year-to-date total to 11.93 inches.

The same period last year had produced only 8.22.

The total for the entire season ending June 30 was 8.64.

Rest Best for Work

Someone took the grey colored cement mixer Sunday from the home of Louis Poluzzi, a school principal, of 3229 S. Bonita st., Spring Valley.

The device has a quarter h.p. motor. It was taken from his premises while he was asleep—possibly dreaming of the cement work that was to be done.

High-Speed Chase Nets Ham Thief Here

A high-speed chase through the residential district of Lemon Grove on March 25 by two sheriff's deputies resulted in apprehension of two suspects who officers said had two bad habits — stealing hams and using narcotics.

It started when Sheriff's Sgt. Ralph Rickley and Deputy Charles Gouge responded to a man waving his arms at 9 p.m. in front of the Lemon Grove Mayfair Market at Broadway and Olive streets.

"Go after the white Pontiac. It went that way," he shouted, pointing toward Main st.

The chase reached upwards of 70 miles an hour in areas limited to 25. After officers located the suspect's car turning west on San Miguel st. During the chase at 70 mph three packages were thrown from the car. The suspects turned north on Massachusetts to Central, over Central at speeds topping 70 mph. The car bounced over a curb at Main and Church and finally came to a stop when it ran into a flower box. The driver, a black male who police identified as George Edward Pargo, 32, of 3078 Island ave., San Diego, fled across the parking lot of the Lemon Grove Medical Group.

Officers said that Pargo, wearing a knee length coat, entered various markets and hid a ham under his coat each time. He would leave without purchasing anything. The woman sat in the car with the engine running, it was reported.

On his seventh heist he was witnessed and the chase and arrest followed.

Needle Marks

At the Sheriff's Lemon Grove office where the couple was interrogated, blood marks on the woman's arm indicated recent injection by needle.

The man's appearance and actions earlier also indicated that he was under the influence of a narcotic, police reports said.

Both were charged with being under the influence of narcotics and Pargo was additionally charged with burglary.

They were booked at County Jail.

Decision on VFW Dances Due Saturday

A meeting of parents as well as teen-agers interested in the dances sponsored each month by the Lemon Grove VFW will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in room 313 of the VFW Hall, 2885 Imperial ave.

Dick Bales and Joe Nelson, co-chairmen of the project, cancelled the March dance following some problems at the February dance.

Bales said this week that the April dance had also been cancelled.

At the Saturday meeting it will be decided whether dances under the local VFW sponsorship will continue.

Interested persons may call Bales at 461-5877 or Nelson at 460-8698. The VFW phone is 465-1992.

Census Takers Due in Grove

Lemon Grove is one of the communities to be surveyed in Phase II of the countywide door-to-door census now under way until April 30.

The census being taken this year will be used for allocation of state funds from 1976 to 1980. Over that period, County officials estimate the County and its 13 cities could receive some $14 million from the state.

Surveyors will carry cards identifying them as "Official Census Enumerators" and they will be presented ble as required by the County Charter.

Other criteria include minimum displacement of population, recognition of communities of interest including cultural, ethnic, social and historical consideration, and to the extent possible the establishment of district boundaries along distinct political, natural, physical or other geographical lines.

Redistricting will try to avoid dividing census tracts and precincts, and with the exception of the City of San Diego, try to avoid dividing individual cities into different districts.

To the extent practical, the redistricting will try to achieve more equality in district areas including the number of square miles in each district.

Sellery Resigns, Becomes San Mateo School Chief

Austin R. Sellery has announced the end of a controversial seven-year term as superintendent of the Grossmont Union High School District.

The District board accepted his letter of resignation at a Monday meeting. The resignation is effective June 30, one year premature of his contract.

Sellery will become superintendent of the San Mateo High School system. The San Mateo board appointed him Thursday in E Cajon after long delays.

Census is Guide

The Board will utilize the population results of the special County-wide census, currently underway, to help determine district boundaries.

Suggested criteria for redistricting includes population equality as required by statute and having two supervisorial districts outside the City of San Diego to the extent possible.

Vikings' Siemon to Take Podium at Lutheran Congress

Jeff Siemon, Minnesota Vikings middle linebacker, addresses the Saturday evening General Session of the San Diego Lutheran Youth Congress, held April 11-13, at the El Cortez Hotel.

Jeff Siemon

Siemon, who has been involved with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Athletes in Action, was the number one draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1972. During his three-year career with the Vikings, he has helped lead them to two consecutive central division and National Football Conference championships and has played in back-to-back Super Bowl Games against Miami and Pittsburgh.

He played on two winning Rose Bowl teams at Stanford University.

Siemon's Christian activities, including work with the Lutheran Congress, began when he was a freshman at UCLA. Following a knee injury, he concluded that he might have missed some answers to life along the way. He then joined the Campus Crusade for Christ International.

Siemon will instruct one of the fifteen elective courses offered at the Congress, "The Ministry of a Christian Athlete." Sponsored by area Lutheran congregations, the Congress is open to everyone. Other main speakers are Dr. Dor Williams of Hollywood Presbyterian, Kevin Murphy of Lutheran Youth Alive, and Rev. Jimmy Johnson, associate pastor at Skyline Wesleyan Church of Lemon Grove.

ARK SET — Towering 32 feet into the air is the set for "Hark the Ark," a biblical comedy performed in the style of a medieval morality play by Lamb's Players of Spring Valley. The troupe plays Spring Valley Park Sunday.

'Hark! The Ark' Plays S.V. Park, April 13

"Hark! The Ark!", a comedy version of the biblical story of Noah, will be presented on Sunday, April 13, in Spring Valley Park at 4:30 p.m. by Lamb's Players.

The Spring Valley street theatre troupe uses the style of the medieval morality plays to tell the familiar story of Noah and his floating zoo.

The plot involves the activities of Noah and his community during the last day before the great flood, say spokesmen for the Players.

The building inspector wants to see a permit; the mayor wants the mess cleaned up; the Dumb Animal Reserve is concerned about the unsanitary conditions. These, added to a pile of domestic problems, do not prevent Noah from completing "the most mammoth backyard project in 'do-it-yourself' history," the Players promise.

The play is sponsored by the Mount Miguel Covenant Church. There will be no charge for admission.

Spring Valley Park is located on Jamacha blvd. just off Sweetwater rd.

All groups participating were judged in performance of three selections of their own choosing and ability in sight reading.

Mr. Weisgerber said that the judges were nearly unanimous in their superior ratings for the Lemon Grove musicians.

He could not remember when he received such high honors at a single festival.

In violation of his vows, he enters into a secret marriage. The separation, punishment and reconciliation of the lovers provides drama in its highest spirit.

Carl Weintraub and Jennifer Henn portray the title roles of Abelard and Heloise. Major supporting roles will be played by Forrest Buckman, Jarlath Lynch, Bette Laws, Kenneth Starcevic, Von Schauer, Jerry Lessard and Rozsa J. Horvath. Ruth Nordgren and V. On display will be the Naval Training Center Drum and Bugle Corps and the Fifty-State Flag Company, the Marine Corps Recruit Depot Band and the award-winning Naval Air Reserve Forces Color Guard.

Game time will be 7 p.m. with a special fireworks display set for the post-game show. Slated to begin almost immediately following the end of the game, the program will again be handled by the San Diego Fireworks Display Co. which has been responsible for the displays staged by the Padres the last few seasons.

With the regular season opener just five days away, the San Diego Padres are concerned with their spring roster and are counting down to the required number of 25.

The Padres took two more steps toward the limit for Opening Day Monday as they assigned righthand pitchers Bob Miller and Ralph Garcia to their minor league camp. Both are ticketed for the Hawaii Triple A club in the Pacific Coast League.

Friday the Padres made their first cut of the spring with the asking of waivers for the unconditional release of relief pitcher Vicente Romo being the top move. Additionally, San Diego also returned to their minor league camp, the following players: pitchers Mike Allen, Rusty Gerhardt, Jay Franklin, Butch Metzger, Bob Strampe and Rich Troedson; catcher Jerry Stone; infielder Mike Champion and outfielders Randy Elliott and Jerry Turner.

The two cuts Monday lowers the number of pitchers still on the roster to 13, just three above the figure of 10 the Padres have indicated they favor for the mound staff.

The roster of players in camp is:

PITCHERS (13): Rich Folkers, Allen Foster, Dave Freisleben, Danny Frisella, Bill Greif, Larry Hardy, Randy

CATCHERS (4): Chris Cannizzaro, Bob Davis, Randy Hundley, Fred Kendall.

INFELDERS (9): Bill Almon, Glenn Beckert, Tito Fuentes, Enzo Hernandez, Dave Hilton, Mike Ivie, Willie McCovey, Dave Roberts and Hector Torres.

OUTFIELDERS (7): Jim Fairley, John Grubb, Gene Locklear, John Scott, Dick Sharon, Bobby Tolan, Dave Winfield.

County Red Cross Funds Aid Refugees

Medical and food relief is being provided to refugees in Cambodia and Vietnam by the American Red Cross, according to Ralph Knapp, disaster chairman of the group's San Diego chapter.

Knapp said, "Medical and food relief programs are heavily underway in both areas. The International Red Cross is providing funds to purchase food, utensils, clothing. The Red Cross is also providing tents and medical supplies. Bread and rice is being parachuted to refugee groups and to boats on their way to isolated victims. The U. S. Government has made a relief grant to the International Red Cross of an additional million dollars. All aid by Red Cross to the distressed areas is an out-and-out gift."

"The only return the Red Cross ever asks is the future well-being of humanity," Knapp said.

FREE RIDE ON MAN POWER — Pretty Linda Moffett, a professional water skier currently featured at Sea World, got the pull of her life Saturday when San Diego State's varsity crew powered her on a mile ride down channel, then turned around and rowed her home. The feat was never done in recorded rowing history. Pulling Aztec oars in the record establishing venture were, from the bow, Kevin Weiss (Conn.), "P.J." Black (San Francisco), Larry Perry (Los Angeles), Rick Escajeda (La Mesa), Mike Cesmat (Richmond, Ca.), Mike Wright (Los Angeles), Scott McDougough (Coronado), Paul Dowdy and Cox'n Barth Sevilla (both of San Diego). Aztec rowers are getting ready for Saturday's San Diego Crew Classic, in which they'll co-host crews from Harvard, Navy, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Washington and most California schools. Hollywood Park Readied For Opening April 11

The 76-day spring and summer Hollywood Park meeting will open Friday, April 11 at the Inglewood Track, with the nation's finest horses and riders ready to compete for more than $9 million in purses.

Opening day attendees will discover that major changes, designed to make a Hollywood Park visit a more exciting and enjoyable experience, have been made in both the Grandstand and Club House.

Two giant island concession areas, featuring the most modern equipment possible, have been added in the Grandstand, which now is resplendent in brilliant shades of red, yellow and blue. And the entire area has been rejuvenated through the addition of thousands of square feet of colorful floor tile.

Modernization of the Club House begins with the main entrance. The decor of the entire level has been upgraded through use of brilliant tones of orange, red and blue.

Traffic flow has been improved by relocating the mutual lines, which also will mean faster service, and all of the refreshment stands and cocktail bars have been refurbished.

The International Food Fair, which services both areas, has been tripled in size. New additions to the Farmer's Markets-type area include a Union Jack Pub, an Oriental Kitchen and an Italian Food booth.

A sidewalk cafe has been added to the Club House side of the Food Fair, while stand-up tables have been added to the Grandstand section.

Discount ticket books, which will provide sizeable admission savings, for either the Club House or Grandstand, are available at the Hollywood Park Ticket Office at 678-1181.

It also reported that Gerald Echavarry, 20, of 478 Parkbrook ave., Spring Valley, was charged with being under the influence of marijuana.

He is to be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court. His two companions were not charged.

Newest Tennis Complex Opens

The San Vincente Racquet Club, a $1.5 million tennis complex at San Diego Country Estates, opens this week with play and instruction on 10 of the club's 20 courts. Dave Austin, former tennis star of San Diego State has been named head tennis professional.

The remaining 10 courts will be completed at a later date, while the club's modern clubhouse is nearing completion and will be open May 1.

The Racquet Club is the latest addition to the list of recreational facilities which make San Diego Country Estates one of the nation's most successful resort communities.

The planned community, which is 38 miles northeast of San Diego near Ramona, was the site of the historic tennis match between Bobby Riggs and Margaret Court on Mother's Day, 1973.

Instruction will be the key word at San Diego's newest major tennis facility.

"We have a complete tennis education center," says Gene Templeton, director of Tennis Services, U.S.A., which will operate the club.

Thought-Out Program "Very few tennis clubs have given as much thought to instructional facilities," says Templeton, who is head tennis coach at San Diego State U. "For most, it is an afterthought."

The Racquet Club will have classrooms in the clubhouse, as well as a classroom adjacent to the courts.

The 23-year-old Dave Austin, head pro, has had experience as a head tennis pro both on the east coast and in the San Diego area.

Austin has degrees in psychology and physical education and was a three-year star on the Aztec's net squad under Templeton.

The clubhouse and courts are on an 8.6 acre site which will be part of a 49-acre tennis ranch that will have 195 condominiums surrounding the tennis complex.

The club courts are concrete with a superior acrylic surface. Two of the club's 10 courts are lighted for night play.

The two-level clubhouse, designed by Los Angeles architect Richard Dorman, FATA, contains a bar and restaurant on the main floor, along with tennis boutique, offices and registration area. The ground floor has two locker rooms, men's and women's massage rooms, saunas, and an instruction auditorium.

The teaching room will have film and video tape equipment to be used in tennis instruction.

2 of 3 Youths Avert Charge

Sheriff's deputies, investigating three men in the vicinity of Washington near Vernier dr., smelled the strong odor of burned marijuana on one of them, according to the officers' report Friday.

It also reported that Gerald Echavarry, 20, of 478 Parkbrook ave., Spring Valley, was charged with being under the influence of marijuana.

He is to be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court. His two companions were not charged.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought a $20,000 home in 1963—today it's worth about $27,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all its worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

It was a first ever. A world happening. And, as usual, it was largely ignored by an unimaginative sports reporting community inflated to the brim by "expert" jock journalists from across the nation, here to report the doings of the National Collegiate Athletic Association cage tourney.

And it was their loss. There is a sharing in the uniqueness of originality that makes doers and viewers parties to history.

Last Saturday, jock jotters were crawling all over themselves at the Sports Arena, while two hoots and a holler across the north parking lot in the Sea World channel, history was being made in near privacy.

San Diego State University's varsity crew, eight oarsmen and a cox'n, churned the waters with enough power in their strokes to pull a water skier on a mile run down channel.

Then, after a brief rest, turned around and hauled her back.

No engine, no outside power, just eight iron men and a hard driving cox'n who battled a tow rope, a growing swell and a unstable craft right into history.

The Aztec crew, co-host with Mission Bay Associates and a seemingly endless list of other occasional notables to the San Diego Crew Classic coming up Saturday, took a working break from their tedious practice schedule to join Sea World professional water skier Linda Moffett in assaulting the undone.

"We pull up to about 18 miles per hour," said Aztec coach Al Czerner, who thought the stunt was a great idea.

"A good water skier can get up at 15 miles an hour and stay up at an even slower pace," smiled pretty Miss Moffett.

And the try was arranged. Mission Bay Associates, Sea World and San Diego State's crew got together with details. The press was invited. Unfortunately, just a few showed up. Photographers mostly. Only one sports type.

Now, it's one thing to dream, but a horse of another hue to do. Until Miss Moffett actually battled her way to balance, it was all theory.

She was ready for anything when Aztec Cox'n Barth Sevilla called his charges to stroke. The first time out Miss Moffett was co-hauled by a power boat until she was up. The second time, Sevilla's command did their own thing. They pulled her up to her feet and down the lane from a cold start.

Miss Moffett, 26, of Coco, Fla., used her arms to absorb shocks and maintain an even tow strain. Power boats provide an even pull, but a rowing shell jumps forward on the stroke and glides on release. It's a jerky ride.

And it was back-breaking work for the oarsmen. From the bow, Kevin Weiss (Conn.), "P.J." Black (San Francisco), Larry Perry (Los Angeles), Rick Escalada (La Mesa), Mike Cesmat (Richmond, Ca), Mike Wright (Los Angeles), Scott McDonough (Coronado), Paul Dowdy and cox'n Sevilla (both of San Diego) are unique in the world. They have done what no other crew has ever done. They rowed their rider right into history.

And crew isn't even a full time sport at State. Despite the Crew Classic being the largest regatta around the U.S. this year, drawing such big time powers as Harvard, Navy, Washington, Nebraska, Wisconsin and a host of lesser strokes, Czerner isn't even a full time coach at Montezuma Mesa.

He gives his sport a full time effort, but he gets small time cooperation from State's Athletic Department. The Aztec crew's budget jingles.

The Aztec crew's peers will know what they have done, even though self-professed rowing buffs and reporting bluffs are blind to the uncommon efforts of these young men.

The Aztec crew will get a nod of recognition from visiting oarsmen during Saturday's running of the Crew Classic. It's just too damn bad they aren't thought important enough by the home folks to draw an honor here.

Tuborg 500 Set For June 8

RIVERSIDE — The Tuborg 400, the second of two stock car road races held each year at Riverside International Raceway, has been set for June 8 this summer.

Lujan-Valenzuela Fight Tops Coliseum Card Friday

He is dissatisfied with his last performance and he's out to re-pay fans who saw it.

Featherweight Manuel Lujan says the pay-off will be Friday at the Coliseum when he faces tough-and-tested Jorge Valenzuela of Tucson.

Lujan, an 18-year old Clairemont high school youngster, racked up 14 consecutive wins before his record (amateur 47-9-5) take on locally sponsored Jose Peterson (37-5-2 in a 10-round feature.

Lujan, now married and graduated from high school, takes his boxing seriously. "I owe something to my fans after that bout," he said. "I had Leal in trouble early but I let him off the hook."

In that fight Lujan had Leal down in the third round with

County Fire Ordinance Extends State Law

The Board of Supervisors quired when the fire hazard have passed a new County threatens neighboring property. Lots less than one acre Hazard Reduction Ordinance. In size must be completely The Ordinance basically extends the existing state law and includes the recommendations of a number of wildland fire agencies, according to Fire Services Coordinator Bob Lawrence.

Clearance of weeds, brush, and other flammable vegetation is required around the perimeter of structures and other improvements. A minimum of 30 feet must be cleared and the required clearance may be increased to 100 feet dependent upon the hazard involved. Clearance around the perimeter of a lot, adjacent to the property line, may be re-

In addition to vegetative clearance the Ordinance also requires clearance of rubbish, trash, refuse, garbage, etc., which creates a fire hazard or is otherwise injurious to the health, safety, and general welfare of the public. Single specimens of trees, ornamental shrubbery, and ground covers are generally excluded provided that they do not form a means of rapidly transmitting fire.

The Ordinance will be enforced by fire prevention personnel from fire protection districts and the Office of the Fire Services Coordinator.

Property Tax Favors 100% Disabled Vets

All veterans who have a 100 percent service connected disability now qualify for a $10,000 assessed value property tax exemption, according to County Assessor E. C. Williams.

Passage of Prop. 8 in November's election broadened the Disabled Veteran Exemption to include veterans with a 100 percent service connected disability rating, he said.

Along with veterans who qualify because of wartime service, veterans who received a medal issued by Congress for a campaign or expedition in time of peace, or who were released from active duty due to a service-connected full disability in peacetime, also qualify.

Williams said a surviving spouse of a qualified veteran, who has not remarried, may also be eligible to receive this exemption.

In order to qualify, a totally disabled veteran must have been a resident of California at the time of entry into the service, or was a resident of California on November 5, 1974.

Veterans applying for this exemption must have a letter of certification from the U. S. Veterans Administration rating the disability at 100 percent. This certification must be filed with the Assessor by April 15.

Claims for the exemption must be filed with the Assessor by April 15.

Mills to Test Bike Shuttle to Coronado Saturday

A demonstration project to carry bicycles and riders over the San Diego-Coronado Bridge will be initiated by Senator James R. Mills and other officials at 9 a.m., Saturday according to California Department of Transportation.

A special trailer equipped to carry eight bicycles will be towed by a nine-passenger van across the bridge, 14 hours a day, seven days a week. The service will begin free of charge.

Jacob Dekema, CalTrans District Director, said two bicycle pickup points have been designated for the shuttle service. One is located on National ave. at Bay Bridge Park on the San Diego side, and the other is on Second street between "B" and "C" streets in Coronado.

"The van will make a complete circuit every hour," Dekema said, "except during the morning and afternoon commuter rush hours. Then the van will be available every half hour."

$50,000 was allocated for the project from the State. A report will be prepared from the results of the demonstration project by CalTrans and submitted to the legislature by January, 1976.

The report will determine the bicycle demand for crossing the San Diego-Coronado Bridge and the feasibility to shuttle bicycles across other toll bridges in California.

Shared Jobs—One Answer to Unemployment

San Diego County business- at County Probation, County Welfare, UCSD Extension and in private industry. In Orange County, certain CETA positions have been set up to be shared by student veterans.

Two Shifts More Productive
Bim Plumb, chief of licensing at County Welfare said, "I have been pleased with my decision to try out shared jobs in my office. Two people in the same job can maintain high energy, effectiveness and efficiency with high morale."

Barbara Ornelas, a social worker for the County who shares her job, said that she works harder in the time she is on the job and looks at the eight hour work day as having lost hours.

Wave of Future
Marjorie Schaeffert, director of counseling programs at UCSD, views shared jobs as the wave of the future.

The shared jobs project in San Diego is funded by a Revenue Sharing Grant with support from NAB.

Shared Jobs is also working to find student veterans, handicapped individuals, and disadvantaged senior citizens interested in shared jobs. "We are looking for people who need work but not full time employment," a project spokesman said. The shared jobs project follows its own concept and has two people sharing a program development position. Shared jobs is already working in San Diego

Eugene Carney, regional players, NAB reports. Included in management's benefits are higher productivity, higher energy levels, greater morale and more team effort. Other advantages are fill-in for peak hours, vacations and sick time. The added cost for a shared job is an average of $2.50 per week excluding insurance. The fringe benefits are prorated.

Hours are divided in ways that benefit both employer and employee. Each employee could work half days; two days one week, three the next; or every other week.

Employers interested in Shared Jobs can call 234-2296. Job applicants should call 236-7475.

Health Service Extended for Low-Income, Medi-Cal Families

The Department of Health estimates that almost half of the California school children who enter the first grade will benefit from a far reaching preventive health program.

Youngsters whose families are Medi-Cal beneficiaries or who come from lower middle income families will receive free physical examinations, mumps, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Nutritional status will also be scrutinized.

The parents of the nearly 330,000 youngsters expected to enter the first grade this year will be required to prove their children have undergone the screening exam before entering them. Parents can request waivers from the screening if they desire.

The program also applies to

New regulations demand that children receive a health history and physical examination and be tested for vision, hearing, development disorders, anemia, tuberculosis, diabetes and infectious diseases. Those lacking such protection will be immunized against measles and rubella, polio, mumps, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

The regular Thursday 50-cent luncheon show of the Cedar Center Community Center moves to the Continental Room of the Hotel San Diego to make room for three popular return performances.

The special event for senior citizens features Walter Andre, billed the American "Maurice Chevalier"; the String Ensemble and the Monettes. The Monettes, a late addition, is a group of singers who have traveled in Europe and America.

The program begins Monday at 1:30 p.m. The show is free with the purchase of the 50-cent luncheon.

County Starts Program For Paper Recycling

The County Board of Supervisors has approved a paper recycling program, contracting with a recycling firm to service the County Administration Center, Operations Center and Courthouse for one year.

The program serves a two-fold purpose; the County receives $31.45 for each ton of recycled paper and the program reduces the cost of hauling away trash. The program is also beneficial from the ecology standpoint, as 17 trees are saved for each ton of paper that is recycled.

The recycling firm distributes fire-safe containers to the County offices at the three locations and provides a regular pickup service when the containers are full. County employees simply deposit recyclable paper in the containers rather than in trash cans. Not all paper can be recycled.

If You Believe You've Been Cheated

A series of consumer protection advisories have been prepared by the California Trial Lawyers Association to warn consumers of some of the hazards of signing a contract. The following article is one of several that will be published in this column for several weeks.

Consumers are urged to write CTLA for their Consumer Protection Pamphlet which tells "How Not to Be Cheated and Who to Contact If You Are."

The address is at the end of this week's Column.

CONDOMINIUMS

Experts predict that within the next twenty years, fifty percent of the U. S. population will live in some form of condominium housing. Condo living, where the consumer owns an individual dwelling plus a share of the recreational and other common facilities, has many benefits, but there are many pitfalls. This series will give you several tips which, if followed, should help prospective owners buy wisely.

Condos can take many forms — from towering high rises to suburban townhouses complete with green belt areas and swimming pools. Some condos, however, are merely tired old apartment houses with a cosmetic face-lift.

Because condo ownership is more complex than traditional home ownership, never hesitate to ask questions — even if they seem silly to you. Demand straight answers before you buy, not after it's too late.

Before purchase, insist on getting copies of all informational material, including all the basic documents of the project. These include the Declaration of Restrictions, Articles, By-Laws, Operating Budget, Management Agreement, and, if the project is F.H.A. insured, a Regulatory Agreement. Because condo builders are regulated by the Department of Real Estate, you must also obtain the Department's Final Public Report from the builder.

Take these documents home and review them carefully. If you have questions, consult an attorney. If you do not get these documents, shop elsewhere.

To obtain a copy of the CTLA Consumer Protection pamphlet, designed to acquaint you with your rights in the law, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to CTLA, 1020 12th st., Sacramento. Please specify whether you want it in English or Spanish.

State Housing Starts Down 50%

New housing starts in California for February were down from the previous month and down by more than half from February 1974, according to Bank of America.

Housing starts for February were at a seasonally adjusted rate of 73,000 units, down 13 per cent from the 84,300 rate of January and down 54 per cent from the 159,000 rate of February, 1974.

Building permits were up slightly in February from January totals, indicating, according to bank economists, that the decline in actual starts was due in part to adverse weather conditions.

Starts of single family units in February accounted for about 70 per cent of the total compared to less than 50 per cent a year ago, the bank reported. During the first two months of 1975 actual starts of apartment units were equal to only 30 per cent of the total for the first two months of 1974.

Seniors' Calendar Off the Presses

Seniors may also write the same address concerning a free fishing license from the Department of Fish and Game.

St. John of Cross School Wins Curriculum Praise

St. John of the Cross school has received commendation from an evaluation committee which included a former principal of Lemon Grove public schools.

Parochial schools, as well as others, find difficulty in establishing a solid meaning to such labels as "quality education," "education of the disadvantaged," "education to the gifted," and "excellence," according to St. John School authorities.

So they asked for a self-study by a committee assigned by the Diocesan School's office.

The school received high commendation for its audio-visual aids such as overhead projectors, film projectors, tape and record reproducers which are used in all classes.

A science lab for 7th and 8th graders and a resource center used by teachers or aides with small groups of children are able to further the learning process of the children, the report indicated. Commendation ego.

Thomson to Perform Theatre Music at Southland Music

Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, presents popular southern California organist Bill Thomson in a concert of the theatre organ music, Saturday, April 12 at 8 p.m.

Bill's concert work has included performances on pipe organs at Grace Cathedral, the Wamamaker organ in Philadelphia, the Rialto Theatre in Pasadena, the San Diego Fox, and most recently for the Detroit Theatre Organ Club, and the rededication of the Downer's Grove Organ in Chicago.

Bill has an extensive private teaching career, traveling to San Francisco, TV studio work has caused him to curtail some of the teaching. Two books on improvising have been written by Thomson and are some of the "tools" he uses when teaching privately as well as classes and teacher-workshops.

More Vets Promised Allowance for Autos, Adaptive Equipment

The Veterans Administration is advising 60,000 potentially eligible veterans of expanded eligibility for automobile grants and adaptive equipment.

Donald R. Ramsey, Director of the San Diego Veterans Administration Regional Office, said that letters will be sent to these veterans residing in this area. Peacetime veterans with service between December 31, 1946 and June 27, 1950, will be included for the first time.

Extension of the automobile program benefits for disabled veterans was signed into law by President Ford.

Eligibility is limited to those veterans with service-connected disability for permanent loss or use of one or both hands or feet, or impairment of vision of both eyes to a prescribed degree, and service during or after World War II.

The maximum amount for automobile grants was increased to $3,300.

The VA was authorized to provide, repair or replace a adaptive automobile equipment for any conveyance acquired by any veteran entitled to this benefit, before he purchased a vehicle with VA assistance since January 11, 1971.

Her Honoree

Justice Suzie M. Sharp is now chief justice of North Carolina's Supreme Court, the first woman to hold such a position.

Elderly Aid Offered by Chacon

An offer to help elderly citizens was made this week by Assemblyman Peter Chacon.

The help will be to those senior citizens who usually overpay their income tax year after year.

"Older people are frequently unaware of special deductions available to them. Especially now when living on a fixed income budget is so tough, I want the elderly in my district to be aware of ways they can legally save money on their Federal tax returns," Chacon said.

Among the deductions the study says are most frequently overlooked are medical expenses for back supports, crutches, convalescent homes for medical treatment, eye glasses, dentures, hearing aids and batteries, invalid chairs, insulin treatments, lip reading lessons, vitamins prescribed by a doctor, wheel chair, and whirlpool baths for medical purposes.

All medical and denture expenses are deductible to the extent that they exceed 3 percent of a taxpayer's adjusted gross income (line 15 Form 1040).

Travel Expenses

"Many older persons involved in charity activities don't realize that they may also deduct travel expenses for charitable purposes," he said. "Also interest charged on installment purchases such as televisions, washers, and dryers can be deducted."

Chacon's district office has a copy of the complete list and any senior citizen with questions on deductions is encouraged to call.

Assemblyman Chacon also reminded senior citizens that amended returns may be filed to claim allowable expenditures initially overlooked. The Form (1040-X) must be filed within 3 years after the original return was due and a refund will be provided which included interest on that amount of money.

"As in previous years, my office, which is located at 5106 Federal Blvd., Suite 207, will offer free tax counseling and assistance in preparing income tax forms. Individuals wishing to utilize this free service are asked to call my office in order to arrange for an appointment at 263-2148," Chacon said.

Ray Kroc Speaker At Realtors' Meet

San Diego Padres owner and head of the McDonald's fast food empire, Ray Kroc, will be speaker at the San Diego Board of Realtors April meeting, Realtor Bill Powell, chairman of the Board's Monthly Meeting Committee said this week.

The Board's Monthly Membership Meeting and Luncheon will be held Wednesday, 11:45 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Scottish Rite Masonic Center in Mission Valley.

Kroc served with the Red Cross ambulance corp in WWI, spent time as a music director for a radio station, played the piano in bands and nightclubs and was briefly involved with the Florida real estate boom some years ago. He then decided to make sales a career and went to work for Lily-Tulip Cup and was its Midwest Sales Manager for 17 years. He then became the exclusive salesman for a new invention called a milk shake multimixer.

When he was 53, Kroc took the concept of licensing independent owners and created his major component and leader in today's fast food industry, the familiar McDonald's and the golden arches.

Kroc was in his 70's when he decided to get into baseball by buying the San Diego Padres.

Advertising Ripoff Reported by Sheriff

A scheme to bilk small businesses out of advertising monies has been uncovered by the Sheriff's fraud unit.

Deputy Mary Stables said the scheme came to her attention when Elmer Gielow, of Elmer's Texaco Station in San Marcos, called her to report what he believed to be a fraud.

One of the actual victims was Deputy Sheriff Eldon Carl, owner of Encinitas Honda. Deputy Stables said an outfit called American Veterans in Service of the Nation is billing local businesses for $58.98 to $37.98 for an ad it claims was ordered by the local businesses.

"The businesses are provided a tear sheet which shows the business name as it allegedly appeared in a small newspaper in the Redondo Beach area, and many businesses are sending in the reported charge," she said.

Singing Hills Near Victim "Steve Horrell of the Singing Hills golf resort had already made out a check and was ready to drop it in the mail when we contacted him," she said.

The fraud detective said she was working from a list of about 600 small businesses in San Diego and Orange Counties which appeared in the ads. "That's about $24,000 if everyone pays up as they are being asked," she noted.

She said small businesses which have been billed for these ads should contact the Sheriff's Fraud Unit, 236-2951, which is now working with postal authorities to prosecute the offenders.

"So far as we have been able to determine, none of the businesses appearing in the ads ordered them, but a great number paid anyway," she said.

Deputy Stables said the use of ethnic groups and the word "veteran" is often used in such fraudulent schemes with great success.

Traffic Signal Leads to Charge

Sheriff's deputies stopped a car on March 26 at 9:45 p.m. after the driver failed to signal a turn at Citronella and Longdale. Sniffing the strong odor of burnt marijuana they investigated and found some marijuana debris and several roaches in the car.

Steven Robert James, 27, unemployed, of 2364 Cypress ave., Lemon Grove, was charged with possession of marijuana.

CHP officers responding to the failure to signal, handled the driver of the car.

He will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

College Pays Off For Jobless Vets

Improved veterans benefits, coupled with increased unemployment, have resulted in a dramatic rise in the number of Vietnam era veterans seeking college-level education under the G.I. Bill. That's the opinion of VA officials at the San Diego Veterans Administration Regional Office.

The VA is now paying $370,000 daily in education benefits to veterans in San Diego, Riverside and Imperial Counties, the area served by the San Diego office. Veteran enrollment is expected to top 40,000 in March, reaching the highest figure for veterans attending school since the post World War II year of 1948.

National statistics reveal an unemployment rate for Vietnam era veterans between the ages of 20 and 24 of 19.7 percent. Precise official unemployment figures are not available for the local San Diego area, but the overall local unemployment rate in January stood at 10.6 percent, the VA office reported.

Donald R. Ramsey, director of the San Diego VA Regional office, believes there is a correlation between the worsening economic situation and the number of veterans seeking higher education.

Passage by Congress last December of a 23 percent increase in veterans educational assistance payments, combined with the slowing economy, appears to make college enrollment more attractive to those eligible. Single veterans going to school full-time receive $270 per month. Married veterans receive $321 with additional allowance for dependents.

Some veterans, feeling the pinch of inflation, are using their G.I. Bill entitlement to go to school part-time to supplement their incomes while developing their earning potential. Single veterans receive $135 monthly for half-time training, and married veterans get $160 plus, depending on the number of dependents.

OSCA Aging Plan Hearings Set

The County's Office of Senior Citizens Affairs (OSCA) will hold two final public hearings in April to review the 1975 Area Plan for the Aging. Seniors, community groups, agencies and city and county departments are encouraged to speak up about the Plan which reflects the needs and goals of the aging throughout San Diego County.

The Plan will help OSCA decide what programs should be supported by Revenue Sharing and other funding sources.

A hearing for North County residents will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Vista Nutrition Center at the Eucalyptus School, 150 Escondido rd. The second hearing will be held April 11 at 9 a.m. at the Downtown Senior Center, 945 C st. in San Diego.

Copies of the Plan can be obtained by calling OSCA at 235-6432.

Housing General Plan Hearing is April 10

The final draft of the Housing Element of the County's General Plan will be presented at a public hearing before the County Board of Supervisors April 10.

The hearing will begin at 10:30 a.m. in Room 358 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, in San Diego.

The Element describes the housing needs of families and individuals in the County's unincorporated areas and recommends a series of policies and programs to meet these needs. The Element estimates a housing need of 12,000 units for low and moderate income households between now and 1980.

The Housing Element has been prepared over the past several months by County planning staff and a citizens advisory subcommittee.

Members of the subcommittee are: Dorothy Rudolph, chairperson; Mateo Camarillo, Bob Coles, Grace Conlee, Jim Kitchen, Emil Nagler and Tom Owen.

The Element describes the housing needs of families and individuals in the County's unincorporated areas and recommends a series of policies and programs to meet these needs. The Element estimates a housing need of 12,000 units for low and moderate income households between now and 1980.
